Dear _____:

Kingsbrook Jewish Medical Center has had several computer monitors and a personal computer stolen from one of its offices.

We are writing to tell you about this because we believe that one of the computers contained personal information about some of our patients, and that some of your personal information (including your social security number) may have been on it. We emphasize "may" as we cannot be certain that your information was actually on the stolen computer.

Please be assured that Kingsbrook takes very seriously its obligation to protect our patients' confidential information. As a result, we are constantly upgrading our physical and electronic security measures. We have also been working with the local police precinct to identify the individual who may have stolen the computer and seek the return of the stolen equipment.

We believe that the thief was interested in the computer equipment itself and not the information on the computer. Nonetheless, this letter is being provided to you in compliance with New York State Information Security and Notification Act, and to let you know that you may want to pay special attention to your credit report.

Please do not hesitate to contact Enid Dillard, Director of Public Affairs (at 718 - 604 - 5062) with any questions you may have.

Very truly yours,

Linda Brady, M.D.
President and Chief Executive Officer
