Re: N.Y. Gen. Bus. s 899-aa - Notice of Security Breach to One New York Resident

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is notice required by New York General Business law, Section 899-aa, that Prudential Retirement will send notice to one New York resident that the security of certain information about that individual may have been breached. The notice will be sent on or about 7/27/2006 by U.S. mail. It will tell the affected individual that a package that included the individual's name, social security number, and other information pertaining to the individual's 401 (k) account was lost. The package was sent via U.S. Mail to the individual's employer and it was recently discovered that the employer did not receive the package.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Robert H. Tyndall".

Robert H. Tyndall
Sr. Vice President, Risk Management
