

003323038
New York Life Insurance Company
1 Rockwood Road, Rm.3N616
Sleepy Hollow, NY 10591
www.newyorklife.com

The Company You Keep®

June 7, 2006

[REDACTED]

IMPORTANT NOTIFICATION

The confidentiality and security of our former and current customers' personal information is very important to New York Life. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that meet state and federal regulations, and we limit employee and agent access to our customers' information.

Unfortunately, a laptop belonging to your agent [REDACTED] was recently stolen. A police report of this incident has been filed. As a preventative measure, we are notifying you about this potential breach of security.

[REDACTED] laptop may have contained personal information about you, such as your name, address, date of birth, policy number and Social Security number. We have flagged your account number in our system so that additional verification protocols will be used if anyone tries to access your account.

Although we are employing measures to prevent unauthorized access to your records with us, we want to inform you about this incident so that you can determine whether you should take some additional steps to protect yourself from identity theft. We recommend that you place an initial fraud alert on your credit report. A fraud alert lets creditors know to contact you before opening new accounts. The initial fraud alert stays on your credit file for at least 90 days. To place the initial fraud alert on your credit report, you are only required to provide to the consumer reporting agency information they can use to verify your identity, such as your Social Security Number. You only need to contact one of the consumer reporting agencies listed below to place to a fraud alert on your credit file.

Equifax - www.equifax.com
1-800-525-6285

Trans Union - www.transunion.com
1-800-680-7289

Experian - www.experian.com
1-888-397-3742

Once the alert is processed, the agency you contacted will notify the other two, which then must also place fraud alerts on your file. You will receive a free copy of your credit report from these agencies. When you receive your credit report, please review it carefully. Look for accounts you did not open and inquiries from creditors that you did not initiate. Also, look for inaccurate personal information, such as home address and Social Security number. If you see anything you do not understand, or if you find suspicious activity on your credit report, immediately call the credit agency and make a report. At this time, you may want to place an extended fraud alert on your file, which will remain on your credit file for seven years.

Even if you do not find any signs of fraud on your credit report, we recommend that you check your credit report every three months for the next year. You can call one of the numbers above to order your report and to keep the fraud alert in place.

We regret any inconvenience this may cause you. If you have any questions or concerns, please call New York Life at our toll-free number, 800-695-4331.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "George H. Hewlett". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long horizontal stroke at the end.

George Hewlett
Service Center Vice President

007690529
New York Life Insurance Company
1 Rockwood Road, Rm.3N616
Sleepy Hollow, NY 10591
www.newyorklife.com

The Company You Keep®

June 7, 2006

IMPORTANT NOTIFICATION

The confidentiality and security of our former and current customers' personal information is very important to New York Life. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that meet state and federal regulations, and we limit employee and agent access to our customers' information.

Unfortunately, a laptop belonging to your agent, [REDACTED] was recently stolen. A police report of this incident has been filed. As a preventative measure, we are notifying you about this potential breach of security.

[REDACTED] laptop may have contained personal information about you, such as your name, address, date of birth, policy number and Social Security number. We have flagged your account number in our system so that additional verification protocols will be used if anyone tries to access your account.

Although we are employing measures to prevent unauthorized access to your records with us, we want to inform you about this incident so that you can determine whether you should take some additional steps to protect yourself from identity theft. We recommend that you place an initial fraud alert on your credit report. A fraud alert lets creditors know to contact you before opening new accounts. The initial fraud alert stays on your credit file for at least 90 days. To place the initial fraud alert on your credit report, you are only required to provide to the consumer reporting agency information they can use to verify your identity, such as your Social Security Number. You only need to contact one of the consumer reporting agencies listed below to place to a fraud alert on your credit file.

Equifax - www.equifax.com
1-800-525-6285

Trans Union - www.transunion.com
1-800-680-7289

Experian - www.experian.com
1-888-397-3742

Once the alert is processed, the agency you contacted will notify the other two, which then must also place fraud alerts on your file. You will receive a free copy of your credit report from these agencies. When you receive your credit report, please review it carefully. Look for accounts you did not open and inquiries from creditors that you did not initiate. Also, look for inaccurate personal information, such as home address and Social Security number. If you see anything you do not understand, or if you find suspicious activity on your credit report, immediately call the credit agency and make a report. At this time, you may want to place an extended fraud alert on your file, which will remain on your credit file for seven years.

Even if you do not find any signs of fraud on your credit report, we recommend that you check your credit report every three months for the next year. You can call one of the numbers above to order your report and to keep the fraud alert in place.

We regret any inconvenience this may cause you. If you have any questions or concerns, please call New York Life at our toll-free number, 800-695-4331.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "George H. Hewlett". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

George Hewlett
Service Center Vice President

007557876
New York Life Insurance Company
1 Rockwood Road, Rm.3N616
Sleepy Hollow, NY 10591
www.newyorklife.com

The Company You Keep®

June 7, 2006

[REDACTED]

IMPORTANT NOTIFICATION

The confidentiality and security of our former and current customers' personal information is very important to New York Life. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that meet state and federal regulations, and we limit employee and agent access to our customers' information.

Unfortunately, a laptop belonging to your agent, [REDACTED] recently stolen. A police report of this incident has been filed. As a preventative measure, we are notifying you about this potential breach of security.

[REDACTED] top may have contained personal information about you, such as your name, address, date of birth, policy number and Social Security number. We have flagged your account number in our system so that additional verification protocols will be used if anyone tries to access your account.

Although we are employing measures to prevent unauthorized access to your records with us, we want to inform you about this incident so that you can determine whether you should take some additional steps to protect yourself from identity theft. We recommend that you place an initial fraud alert on your credit report. A fraud alert lets creditors know to contact you before opening new accounts. The initial fraud alert stays on your credit file for at least 90 days. To place the initial fraud alert on your credit report, you are only required to provide to the consumer reporting agency information they can use to verify your identity, such as your Social Security Number. You only need to contact one of the consumer reporting agencies listed below to place to a fraud alert on your credit file.

Equifax - www.equifax.com
1-800-525-6285

Trans Union - www.transunion.com
1-800-680-7289

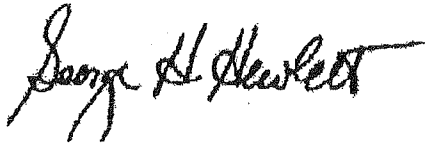

Experian - www.experian.com
1-888-397-3742

Once the alert is processed, the agency you contacted will notify the other two, which then must also place fraud alerts on your file. You will receive a free copy of your credit report from these agencies. When you receive your credit report, please review it carefully. Look for accounts you did not open and inquiries from creditors that you did not initiate. Also, look for inaccurate personal information, such as home address and Social Security number. If you see anything you do not understand, or if you find suspicious activity on your credit report, immediately call the credit agency and make a report. At this time, you may want to place an extended fraud alert on your file, which will remain on your credit file for seven years.

Even if you do not find any signs of fraud on your credit report, we recommend that you check your credit report every three months for the next year. You can call one of the numbers above to order your report and to keep the fraud alert in place.

We regret any inconvenience this may cause you. If you have any questions or concerns, please call New York Life at our toll-free number, 800-695-4331.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "George H. Hewlett". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large, sweeping initial "G".

George Hewlett
Service Center Vice President